

We're happy that your Retreat Group is attending Camp Otterbein

Welcome! We are excited to have you at The West Ohio Conference's Camp Otterbein in Logan, Ohio. We strive to provide hospitality toward a spiritual, relational and recreational experience.

To ensure your camp experience is a pleasant one, we want to make you aware of some important details to prepare you and our staff for your arrival.

Due to the changing nature surrounding COVID, please be aware of and follow current best practices. Retreat guests and leaders are asked to complete a Self-Health Assessment to verify their good standing health history upon arrival. This is to be turned in to the retreat leader at Check-In.

Lodging: Our cabins and retreat lodges utilize bunk beds in twin mattress size. Please plan to bring your own bedding and towels. Retreat Lodges have restrooms in the building (shower, sink, toilet) in each wing. Cabins utilize the nearby shower houses. If you are staying in our Pine Center, the linens are provided, and 2 full restrooms are in the building. If you are staying in our Treehouses, these are rustic and remote to a purpose with no use of electric or running water with cot beds. In the summer months, portable restrooms are utilized.

Programming: If you are participating in a camp staff led program or activity, please provide your group leader with a signed Release of Liability Form either for yourself or signed by your parent/legal guardian. Please dress for the weather, most activities at camp can continue with mild weather (rain, heat, cold). We will work toward alternate options with the group leader should activities need to be postponed or cancelled for any reason.

Medical/Dietary Needs: Please be in contact with your retreat group leader about any special medical or dietary needs which would need to be passed along to our camp staff. If there are special dietary restrictions or food allergies, we will do our best to accommodate and work alongside you. Please provide this at least one week prior to your event.

Emergencies: Please be in touch with your group leader for emergency contact procedures. If the group leader cannot be reached, you may contact the Camp Otterbein office at (380) 223-2267 x2 or the West Ohio Conference camping office at (380) 223-2267 x1. We have an AED on site and 911 emergency services available in the nearby city of Logan.

Lodging Practice: In response to the increase of bed bug infestations nationwide, where Ohio is one of the most prevalent states, we at Camp Otterbein are choosing to take an active approach to ensure that these pests are not derailing the great experiences that happen while at camp, and that only positive memories are brought home. Prior to your arrival and after each overnight group, cabins are cleaned and inspected and include regular preventative measures taken by a licensed professional. Start a good practice for you and your family when travelling to any destination. Upon returning home, unpack directly into laundry machines. A cycle in a household dryer at high temperatures kills any potential bed bugs and their eggs. If you would like further information, feel free to view the EPA's website at epa.gov/bedbugs
